Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 30 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy, especially coasts. Outbreaks of rain, then heavy showers later.

Today:
Unseasonably windy, with coastal gales. Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, heavy and persistent for some through the morning. Brighter spells possible by the afternoon, but most places cloudy with showers, heavy at times and potentially thundery. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers are likely to continue into the evening, only gradually easing later in the night. Some parts staying drier however, especially in the west, with clear spells developing. Winds easing. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
Mostly dry at first, with sunny spells and just the odd shower possible. Cloud builds through the day with scattered showers developing, heavy in places, with a chance of thunder. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Often dry with variable cloud, sunny spells and a chance of showers through the period. Greatest risk on Monday. Staying rather cool with light winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.